

INNOVATIVE MICROFINANCE

Agility + Innovation + Social Capital = Innovative Microfinance

About Us

Our value is to ensure inclusive economic justice and financial freedom by empowering community, especially for low-income families, social and racial-minority communities.

We believe that despite having social capital and expectation, communities are facing unpredictable socio-financial calamities; this is our own testament too.

Our mission is to empower community by promoting social capital and small ventures through microfinance; microfinance is the best way to improve the lives of families and create more opportunities.

Innovative Microfinance is a corporation that identifies socio-financial calamities and assembles social capital, expertise and experiments with innovative solutions to promote our core value. We provide microloans, business management services, and trainings for diverse communities. We collaborate with several stakeholders to advance racial equity, inclusive financial opportunities and community empowerment.

We look back at our first 10 years and look forward, optimistically, to the future. Our next decade's goal is to promote social capital, small ventures, and investments, while generating compounding returns, both economically and socially, for our community.
